debility peculiar to their sex, should try BROWN'S
IRON
BITTERS
THE
BEST TONIC.

This medicine combines Iron with pure vegetable tonics, and is invaluable for Diseases peculiar to Women, and all who lead sedentary lives. It Enriches and Purifies the Blood, Stimulates the Appetite, Strengthens the Muscles and Nerves—in fact, thoroughly invigorates.
It does not blacken the teeth, cause headache, or produce constipation—all other Iron medicines do.
Clears the complexion, and makes the skin smooth.
Miss, ELIZABETH BARNY, 74 Farwell Ave., Milwaukee, Wis., says, under date of Dec. 26th, 1884:
"I have used Brown's Iron Bitters, and it has been more than a doctor to me, having cured me of the weakness ladies have in life. Also cured me of Liver Complaint, and now my complexion is clear, and good. Has also been beneficial to my children." Mrs. LUTHER C. BRADON, East Lockport, N. Y., says: "I have suffered untold misery from Female Complaints, and could obtain relief from nothing except Brown's Iron Bitters."

LYING AT DEATH'S DOOR.

HENRY WARD BEECHER STRICKEN DOWN WITH PARALYSIS.

His Death Not Anticipated at Present, but the Eminent Pastor's Condition is Pronounced Hopeless By His Physicians.
No Sermon in Plymouth Church.

NEW YORK, March 8.—Henry Ward Beecher was suddenly stricken down with paralysis, Friday night, at the residence of his son, Col. Beecher, corner Hicks and Clark streets, Brooklyn. No danger was apprehended until Saturday evening, when the shock, which was only partial, developed into a complete suspension of all feeling of the entire left side.

So hopeful were even his physician that Mr. Beecher's strong constitution would pull him through that the public were not apprised of the pastor's serious condition until Sunday, when it became apparent that serious results must follow. At 1 o'clock Sunday morning there was an alarming change for the worse in Mr. Beecher's condition, and all thought the end had come. The patient's breathing became labored and he gasped for breath, clutching convulsively at intervals at the bedclothes with his right hand. Riordan, the male nurse, instantly summoned all the members of Mr. Beecher's family, but at 4 a.
m. the patient was resting easier.

A bulletin board was placed in front of the residence Sunday, and hourly the dying man's condition was noted thereon. Thousands of persons crowded around this board all day Sunday. As showing the wide range of Mr. Beecher's friends, in the crowd about the bulletin board were people of every station, from the millionaire to the prosperous tradesman and the poor day laborer. During the day Dr. De Witt Talmage and his daughter Edith and scores of city officials called at the house to express their sympathy. Dr. Hammond after his first careful examination, said that, should Mr. Beecher escape death, he would be restored to his former mental vigor. Even the scant hope was given up before Sunday night. Mr.
Beecher had hours before sunk into an unconscious state, from which no human agency could rouse him.

At 1:30 this morning Dr. Hammond made a specially careful test to ascertain the exact extent of the paralysis of the left side. He found it complete. Taking Mr. Beecher's left hand in his, he pinched it with all his force until his nails sunk into the flesh.
There was not the slightest response.
He even lifted the lid of Beecher's left eye and touched the eyeball, which is ordinarily sensitive, and the result was the same as when he pinched the hand. The arm and the leg were more severely paralyzed than they were at the same time on the day before, and swallowing was difficult, the pulse intermittent, the temperature more than one hundred and death only a question of a few hours. Before Dr.
Hammond left the house he took Mrs. Beecher by the hand, and resting his arm on her shoulder, told her as gently as he could that there was no hope, not even that she would ever see her husband again conscious. Mrs.
Beecher bore the announcement very bravely, saying that she had already made up her mind for the worst, and that she should do all she could to resign herself to the will of God.
At 7 o'clock this morning crowds of people on their way to business ran up the steps of the Beecher residence to read the following bulletin:

"Mr. Beecher has failed gradually throughout the night. His death is not, however, anticipated at present. W. S. SEARLE." At 11 o'clock there was no perceptible change in Mr. Beecher's condition. A United Press reporter who called at the residence had a brief interview with the dying preacher's daughter-in-law, Mrs. W. C.
Beecher.

"It is not true, as has been published," she said, "that we have received a message of sympathy from President Cleveland. Prominent clergymen throughout the country have sent telegrams expressing their sorrow, but none has been received from men in public life."

"Is Mrs. Beecher as low as has been reported?"
"No, she is not. She gets considerable sleep and is doing nicely. She has been troubled at the stories of her reported breaking down. As to Mr. Beecher's condition, of course, it is extremely critical, but the doctors can inform you as to that better than I can."

Dr. Searle called at the house at 11:15
a. m. At noon he issued the following bulletin:

"The condition of Mr. Beecher at this hour does not vary essentially from that given fully last evening. The only changes perceptible are increase in the rapidity of the pulse and respirations. They stand respectively at 108 and thirty-six to thirty-eight per minute. The respiration is also more shallow. His temperature is 101 degrees. The symptoms indicate the gradual failure of vitality, which has been anticipated and the consequent slow approach of the end. This course of the disease can only be changed by the occurrence of a fresh hemorrhage, an accident which may or may not happen, and time of which cannot be surmised. There are no reason to believe that the fatal issue will occur to-day."

There was no sermon preached in Mr.
Beecher's Plymouth church Sunday. The beautiful communion service took its place.
When Mr. Beecher's white haired assistant, the venerable Dr. Halliday, arose tears were streaming down his face as he announced that Mr. Beecher's case had been pronounced hopeless. Several new members were baptized and the service ended with the reading of a sentence from Mr. Beecher's writings: "When we have passed into the twilight of life and our sun seems to be setting, let us call back, 'I live!'"

Nearly every pastor in New York and Brooklyn alluded to the eminent divine's approaching end. Since Saturday evening thousands of telegrams of inquiry and sympathy have been pouring in upon the afflicted family. The greatest part of Mr. Beecher's time of late has been taken up in the preparation of his autobiography. His last trip out of the house was on Tuesday last week when he ran up to Peekskill and back on a business trip. Mr. Beecher and his wife have but recently returned from England.
Shortly after his return the whole country was suddenly startled one day by the announcement that Mr. Beecher had succumbed to an apoplectic stroke. Fortunately the rumor was false, as Mr. Beecher himself snailingly contradicted the rumor when a reporter called, expressing the hope at the time that he expected to live many days yet.

AN EXTRA SESSION.

West Virginia Legislature Called to Enact Important Special Measures.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 8.—Governor Wilson to-day issued his proclamation reconvening the legislature of this state on the third Wednesday in April next, to consider and act upon the following subjects of legislation, namely: To make appropriations of public money to pay general charges upon the treasury; to make appropriations to pay members of the legislature and salaries of the officers of the government; to protect the public treasury against unnecessary expenditures by regulating costs, charges and proceedings in criminal cases before justices and circuit courts; to provide for and limit allowances for maintenance of inmates in jail; to provide for and secure such relief to people of this state as may be had from the "act recently passed by congress entitled an act to regulate commerce;" to prohibit railroad companies from carrying and conveying public officers or delegates to political conventions over their roads free of charge, or at less charge than usual rate for other persons, and to abolish absolutely the free pass system; to prohibit use of money and all other improper means to secure nominations by political parties or election to public office; to provide for acceptance and confirmation of reports of joint boundary commission on boundary between this state and Pennsylvania; to provide for establishing the boundary line between this state and Maryland, and between this state and Virginia.

The governor does not refer to the election of a United States senator, but it is believed that there will be an election, as the work called for cannot be accomplished before the second Tuesday after meeting. The extra session promises to be an interesting one.
Senator Kenna arrived from Washington, and says there is no doubt but that the legislature will have to elect a senator at its special session, notwithstanding Governor Wilson thinks otherwise.

HORACE GREELEY'S SISTER

Stricken With Paralysis at the Age of Seventy-Three Years—Some Family Facts.

OIL CITY, Pa., March 8.—The Derrick today prints a long interview with Mrs.
Amanda Greeley, sister of the late Horace Greeley, who has been stricken with paralysis, at the home of her son, Louis Kossuth Greeley, at Spring Creek, a small station in Warren county, Pa., where she has been living for a number of years. Amanda Greeley is seventy-three years old, and was married to her cousin, Lovell Greeley. He has been dead for some years. Of fourteen children, four are living, viz: Louis Kossuth, who owns the homestead farm; Zachary E. D., who lives on a rented farm half a mile from Spring Creek Station; Harriette, wife of Captain Fowler, of New York; and Estella, now at home. The four are pure blooded Greeleys, their father being a cousin of Horace, and their mother a sister.

This coincidence is noted: Mrs. Amanda Greeley, the sister of Horace, has had fourteen children, all dead but four, and Barnabas Greeley, a brother of Horace, has had fourteen, all living but four. Barnes is still living on the old Greeley farm, three miles from Corry, Pa. W. L. Greeley, son of Louis Kossuth and a grand nephew of Horace, is the village barber at Spring Creek station, and a violinist of local renown. He has two chairs in his shop, but is able to attend himself to all the custom that comes to the little village.

A Cold Blooded Killing.

NEW ALBANY, Ind., March 8.—Near the Ingle coal mines, in Pike county, Saturday night, George Rouse shot and killed George Harris, blowing the entire top of his head off.
Both are colored and miners. Rouse's wife had been arrested and convicted in Gibson county for the larceny of a dress. After her sentence she escaped from jail and went to Harris and begged him to secrete her till she could leave the county. He did so, and then for a reward of $25 put the officers on her and she was captured and taken back to jail. Harris was boasting of this in a crowd where Rouse was present. Rouse stepped up to him and asked: "Is that so?
Did you do that?" "Yes, I did; and would do it again," replied Harris. In a moment Rouse drew two revolvers and shot Harris to death. He then left and went to Petersburg, the county seat, and surrendered to the officers.

Sunk By a Steamboat.

MADISON, Ind., March 8.—Information was received here last night that the tow-boat Diamond, upward bound, yesterday afternoon ran over and sank a skiff containing seven persons, all colored, six of whom were drowned. Their names were Henry Gross, with his two daughters and three sons and the son of a neighbor named Brown.
The skiff had just started out from Giant, Ky. The pilot of the Diamond promptly reversed his engine, but too late. John Graham, son of Capt. Robert Graham, heroically plunged in and brought three of the unfortunates to shore, only one, however, being alive.

Received Property Sooner than Expected.

ST. LOUIS, March 8.—James F. Goodman, a wealthy citizen of Huntsville, Mo., had a dispute with his wife last night about a piece of real estate he had presented to his little son. Goodman kicked his wife out of bed and then brained her with a boot jack. The child witnessed the killing. Goodman went to the barn, severed an artery in his arm and hung himself to a rafter. The dead woman was Goodman's third wife, and the boy to whom the property had been presented was the son of a former wife of the suicide.

WOOSTER, O., March 8.—Mrs. A. G. Billman, of Akron, dropped dead at 10 this morning. She came here to attend the funeral of her brother's wife, Mrs. Jacob Hartman, who died through fright last Thursday. She was on her return home, and was stricken with apoplexy at the depot and dropped dead into her brother's arms.

A Bear Failure.

CHICAGO, March 8.—Buckley & Co., a small firm of wheat traders, suspended this morning. They had been operating on the bear side

SHERMAN A CANDIDATE.

COMMENTS OF THE BALTIMORE SUN ON HIS SOUTHERN TRIP.

That Paper Says Sherman is the Best Available Presidential Candidate in the Republican Party—Effect of the Failure of the General Deficiency Bill.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—Referring to the contemplated southern trip of Messrs. Sherman, Manderson, Palmer and others, the Baltimore Sun to-day comments as follows:
"Senator Sherman purposes starting on his southern trip in a very short time. It is understood among his close friends that Mr.
Sherman contemplates combining business with pleasure on this trip. The initial conferences held here during this winter by prominent Republicans of the stalwart faith, with reference to Republican prospects in the next presidential election, have resulted in substantial concurrence in the opinion that Mr. Sherman is by far the best available timber for the Republican party. Pen-sylvania has always been looked upon as a Blaine stronghold; but it is said that the Cameron influence will from now be exerted to secure a Sherman delegation to the next Republican National convention. New York is also counted upon for Sherman, and in the northwest ex-Postmaster General Hutton and the clique, with which he trains are to look out for Sherman delegates. Of course Mr.
Sherman can have no difficulty in securing the Ohio delegation.

"When Mr. Sherman was a candidate for the presidential nomination of 1880, he used his power as secretary of the treasury to 'work' the South, and, as will be remembered, he obtained quite a respectable following that section. He had no scruples in appealing to southern collectors of customs and of internal revenue to help him out. It is among the traditions of the treasury department that upon one occasion he hinted to Mr.
John L. Thomas, the collector of customs at Baltimore, that a Sherman delegation from Maryland to the Republican convention would be very acceptable, but that Mr.
Thomas was too much tainted with Blaineism to take kindly to the suggestion. Now it is said that Mr. Sherman and his friends are of the belief that the seed sown for him in the South in 1880 fell upon good ground, that this is the time to follow up the good work. It is reported, therefore, that on his southern trip Mr. Sherman will take the occasion to lay his wires for southern delegates to the convention of next year."

"So far as Virginia is concerned it is said that Gen. Macon is thoroughly in sympathy with the Sherman movement, and will use his influence for a Sherman delegation. Col.
Canady, the sergeant-at-arms of the senate, and who has long been one of the most prominent managers and workers in the Republican party of North Carolina, has long been devoted to the political fortunes of Mr. Sherman, and he is relied upon to secure the North Carolina delegation. These all think that Mr. Sherman will strengthen his chances by going south and mixing with the people so that other R-publican aspirants for the nomination will watch Mr. Sherman's tour with considerable interest, if not anxiety."

Collecting Revenue.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The government is likely to lose considerable revenue in consequence of the general deficiency bill not becoming a law this year. The bill contained an item appropriating $30,000 to provide for an increase in the force of deputy collectors in the internal revenue office. This was needed, especially to collect oleomargarine taxes. The oleomargarine law has been in force only since the 1st of last November, and since that date an inadequate force has collected some $400,000 from this particular source of revenue. Commissioner Miller thinks the oleomargarine revenue could be largely increased if he had a force large enough to ferret out all those who must now be evading the law, but as the bill failed to become a law, the work of collecting these taxes with his present inadequate force, must be faulty, and result in the loss of a great deal of revenue.

President Cleveland's Birthday.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—President Cleveland will be fifty years old on Friday, the 18th instant. He has not yet decided whether to make any special occasion on that date, but it is quite probable that he will enjoy it in a domestic way. He will be only the fourth president to celebrate his semi-centenial anniversary in the White House. The other three were James K. Polk, Franklin Pierce and U. S. Grant. If Garfield had lived a month longer he would have been fifty.

The Turkish Mission.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—It is considered reasonably certain that Oscar S. Straus, of New York, will receive the Turkish mission.

Shot for Refusing to Marry a Crank.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., March 8.—Lena O.
Bitts, the nineteen-year-old daughter of a Belmont farmer near this city, was shot and killed last night by Louis Ecklesdaffer, because she would not consent to marry him.
He is twenty-four years old and the son of a neighboring farmer, and has been paying attentions to the girl for the past two years.
Last night in front of her residence he threatened to shoot her unless she consented. She laughingly declined to answer until next Sunday. This exasperated him and he fired the first bullet taking effect in the collarbone, and a second in the breast producing instant death. He then turned the pistol on himself and fired, the bullet piercing his breast and left lung. He is badly wounded but will probably recover.

A Minister Foully Murdered.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 8.—Rev. Frank Belmont, a Baptist minister, was found dead Saturday evening on the bank of a stream in the Chickasaw Nation. He is believed to have been murdered. There was a wound on his head and his pockets were turned inside out. The indications are that the body had been flung into the water above and washed ashore.

Seriously Injured By a Fall.

TIFFIN, O., March 8.—While leaving church yesterday Mrs. Gondolph Smith, a lady aged about sixty years, was taken with a fainting spell and fell to the sidewalk, striking her head and cutting it badly. Her injuries are very serious, and it was feared for a time that death would ensue.

CONDITION OF THE CROPS.

The Present State of W as Reported to the Farmers' Review This Week.

CHICAGO, March 8.—The following will be printed in this week's issue of the Farmers' Review: Thus far the reports from the winter wheat belt indicate that the crop is emerging from the winter in better shape than last year. The crop is not assured from the resulting damage of storms and bad weather, and still has to pass through a critical period, but as a whole the outlook must be regarded as more favorable than at the beginning of March of last year.

The extremely mild weather of the opening days of last week, followed by the cold weather, caused some injury in Illinois and Indiana, and in Laporte and Randolph counties of Indiana considerable wheat was frozen and killed. Twenty-three Illinois counties this week report the wheat as looking well, while in Brown, Johnson and White counties injury is reported. Thirteen counties of Indiana make very favorable returns. In Michigan and Wisconsin the outlook is reported as very favorable. Nearly all the Wisconsin fields had an ample snow covering since last November. The weather has been unfavorable in Ohio, and some injury is reported in Champaign, Seneca and Van Wert counties, but all the other counties reporting make favorable returns.

The season is well advanced in Missouri, and spring plowing has commenced. In Bates, Benton, Christian and Montgomery counties oats are already being sown. In Clinton, Knox and Livingston counties of Missouri the wheat is reported as looking poorly, but the other counties report a mainly of a favorable tenor. There is no change in the tenor of the reports from Kansas. Fully one-half of the counties report a very poor outlook for wheat. In Harper county not more than one-half the average crop is predicted, while in Clay, Davis, Mitchell, Reno and Rock counties the situation is poor and the crop is in a critical condition.

COTTON SEED OIL.

The New Company Which is to Compete With the Standard Oil Company.

CAMDEN, N. J., March 8.—The new cotton oil company was chartered here on Saturday.
It is to compete in the manufacture of cotton seed oil with the Standard Oil company. The officers are: President, Henry C. Butcher, of Washington Butcher Sons, of this city; manager, Frederick Oliver, of Oliver Bros., of Columbia, S. C.; secretary and treasurer, John Oliver, of the same firm; engineer, Daniel A. Tompkins, of D. A. Tompkins & Co., of Charlotte, N. C. The capital is $5, 000,000, of which four million has already been subscribed by Philadelphia capitalists.

The company is authorized to build mills at Norfolk, Va.; Wilmington, N. C.; Charleston and Columbia, S. C.; Savannah, Macon, Augusta and Atlanta, Ga.; Mobile, Montgomery, Demopolis and Sheffield, Ala.; Jackson and Meriden, Miss.; New Orleans and Shreveport, La.; Memphis, Tenn.; Houston, Galveston, Dallas, San Antonio, Tex.; Little Rock, Ark., and refineries at Chicago, Kansas City, Camden, Jersey City, Hoboken and Philadelphia. Work will be begun soon in the mills and refineries and the most improved machinery will be used in them.

The Wrong House to Fool Around

CHICAGO, March 8.—Miles J. Clinch, a grocer, was shot and fatally wounded at 1 o'clock Sunday morning by Mrs. Maggie Shay at the latter's residence, No. 122 Barber street, while trying to break down a door to force an entrance. Mrs. Shay fired two shots through the door from a revolver, one of them striking Clinch under the right eye.
Clinch was taken to his home, No. 547 Union street, where it was found that the bullet had taken an upward direction and lodged in his brain. There was no quarrel between the families and no reason but a desire on Clinch's part for the company of Shay's wife to account for the affair. Mrs. Shay is the wife of Fireman M. J. Shay, of the Insurance Patrol No. 1, and her husband is therefore away from home a greater part of the time, a circumstance that was apparently known to Clinch.

Women Raid an Illinois Saloon.

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., March 8.—At Ellsworth, a few miles east of Bloomington, the active feature of the crusade were revived Saturday. A band of thirty-eight women marched to the gallon house of A. J. Mc-Grevy and asked him to close up his saloon and leave the place. This he refused to do, when they charged on the place. McGrevy met them at the door with a hatchet, but was promptly knocked down by George Whittaker. The women then raided the place, rolled out all the liquors and spilled them in the mud. The women declare that they will clear out all the gallon houses that may come there.

Fight Between Runaway Boys.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., March 8.—Three boys, Benjamin Fry and Christian and Joseph Monahan, of Chicago, aged fifteen, thirteen and eight years, were put off the Michigan Central express at this place Saturday night. The runaway breakfast was served in jail. The boys got into a fight after breakfast, and Christian was stabbed by Fry with a case-knife through the cheek and tongue into the throat, cutting an artery.
He will die. Fry and Monahan were held.

Reading Coal Handling Program.

PHILADELPHIA, March 8.—The Times says that the management of the Reading railroad have decided to equip immediately the yards and wharves of the company at Port Richmond, to make them a vast entrepot for the coal and freight operations of that company. At present only coal is handled at Port Richmond wharves. It will be made the great shipping point of the Reading system.

Sentenced to Two Years.

LANCASTER, Pa., March 8.—Andrew Ehman, who was brought here several months ago from Delaware, O., on the charge of breaking jail in this city eight years since, and whose high standing in Ohio caused the arrest to be one of interest, pleaded guilty today, and was sentenced to two days' imprisonment and costs.

Death of Commodore E. P. Lull.

HARTFORD, Conn., March 8.—A telegram was received from Pensacola yesterday, announcing the death of Commodore E. P.
Lull, of the United States navy at that point.

DAILY EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.

ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

TUESDAY EVEN'G, MARCH 8, 1887.

Two of a Kind.

The Daily Republican is not a Free-trade paper. It does not believe in sending money away from home to enrich other places and impoverish Maysville when it can be avoided. Therefore, it prefers to employ home mechanics to set the type from which it is printed, rather than buy cheap stereotype plates from a foreign concern, at the ultimate expense of Maysville workmen.—Republican.

Now, Tommie, of course you and your partner, Johnnie, wouldn't impoverish Maysville for anything in the world. The public know you wouldn't, so what's the use of blowing? It's anything to keep from impoverishing the town with you two and your paper, it is. You wouldn't even have gas cost less than $3 a thousand, if you could help it. Oh, no. Anything less than $3 might impoverish—a few of the wealthy stockholders of the old gas company.

Seriously, Tommy, do you and Johnnie imagine you can bamboozle an intelligent people like the citizens of Maysville by dishing out to them through your paper any such slush as you are giving them? What do you take the people of Maysville for, anyhow? Do you imagine they have forgotten how you used your paper to fight down the Citizens' Gas Light Company that was organized and is run principally by citizens of this city, to furnish gas at a price that is not ruinously exorbitant—at a rate that is fair and reasonable? Does your action towards the new gas company bear you out in any such statement as you make in the above clipping? Don't the people of Maysville know that you persecuted the new company from its very inception, even though it was composed, mainly, of good, reputable, upright, honest citizens, who proposed to engage in a lawful business? Do you know that the people attribute your cowardly, uncalculated attack, made through your paper, upon one of the officers of the new company solely to the fact that he was connected with the company, and was active and zealous in its organization? If you don't know this to be a fact, you can find it all out without a great deal of trouble. In your excellent opinion of each other, Tommie, you and Johnnie may imagine you can gull and bamboozle the people of Maysville with such talk as the above clipping, but sooner or later you'll both learn better.

And then your love for the "Maysville workmen" is something wonderful. You wouldn't do anything at their expense, you wouldn't. You employ "home mechanics to set the type from which your paper is printed"—simply because you have to do so. If a machine could be invented to do all the work on your paper, you know you'd fire every "home mechanic" from your office on short notice. They know you'd do so, if you don't. And the people of Maysville know you would, too.

As to the "cheap stereotype plates" you and Johnnie refer to, they enable us, with the "home mechanics" we employ, to furnish a nice, neat, newsy paper to the people of Maysville—the "workingmen of Maysville"—at only one cent—a saving to them of just one half compared with the paper you furnish at two cents, and which is not one whit better. This saving to the people through the "cheap stereotype plates" is distributed among our large list of subscribers every day, and in a year's time will amount to a great deal more than it takes to run your entire paper. The BULLETIN is not run at the expense of the Maysville workmen. On the contrary it is run to their interest.

In conclusion, Tommie, we advise you and Johnnie to let up. Give your readers a rest. The people of Maysville are on to you and have sized you up for just about what you'd both sell for if you were put up at public auction. You two may have "served a faithful apprenticeship to your profession," and all that, but you'll both have to take a few more lessons before you can gull and bamboozle the honest, intelligent people of this city.

Beecher Dead.

Henry Ward Beecher, whose serious illness is detailed elsewhere in our columns, departed this life at an early hour this morning. From the moment he was taken down with this last sickness, his physicians gave no hope of recovery. They foresaw that the end was only a question of a few hours or days at best. In his death the country loses one of its most talented men, and the church one of its wisest known and most zealous workers.

The Republican newspaper at Covington has again changed hands and will now be run "for revenue only," politics or no politics.

Over half the people at Ripley have donated the "blue ribbon," and pledged themselves to total abstinence.

THE AWAKENING.

With lingering touches memory loves to stray Among the wanderings of that sunny day, From out its brightness flinging back a tone That thrills me now, though twenty years have flown Since last I heard it; bringing back a smile That floats like sunshine through the dim defile Of buried years, since by her side I stood, And dreamed and wakened in a summer wood.
Friend of my youth! the dream was not for me!
Not mine that smile of girlish ecstasy;
Not mine that downward look, that sweet, shy tone;
And so I left you—to wake alone.
—The Argosy.

THE ART OF "MAKING UP."

How an Actor Hides His Mustache and Curls—Value of Grease Paint.

Dion Boucault is a master of the art of "making up," and in half an hour can renew his youth in the dressing room. He does not use a great deal of paint, but he knows just where and how to put it on. Plenty of red over the whole face, deepened on the cheeks, is the first requisite. Then the lines around the eyes are lightened and apparently filled up. A curly wig covers his head and his long hair is tucked up out of sight.

Boucault never shaves off his mustache, but nobody can detect any signs of hair on the upper lip of Conn in the play. Some actors use what is called a mustache mask, a thin piece of rubber or parchment that can be stuck upon the upper lip and covered. Boucault's method is more artistic and requires greater skill. He merely paints his mustache the color of his face and sticks it down flat upon his lip. The ends serve to fill up the deepest parts of the lines running from the nose to the corners of the mouth. That is all the artificiality of the face, but the grease paint is applied with such accurate knowledge of the effects of the footlights that the man's face is completely metamorphosed, and he seems to have drank the waters of the fountain of youth. But paint will not conceal the gout, and when that gets into Conn's toes he does not jump about lively. His legs look stony and plump in spite of age and the rheumatism.

There again is art displayed. Boucault has a pair of stout woven tights, lined with lamb's wool, which he wears for the double purpose of keeping his rheumatic legs warm and making them look like an athlete's limbs. The latter effect is obtained by the distribution of the wool in varying thicknesses, so as to fill up any natural deficiencies and give a well rounded appearance, and the lining is woven in the fabrics so that it cannot become displaced. These tights are beneath the stockings, and their presence never would be suspected. After the performance Conn retires to the dressing room and passes a towel over his face, his valet pulls off the tights and the white-haired old gentleman once more appears.—New York Cor. Cincinnati Enquirer.

Redeeming the Trade Dollar.

NEW YORK, March 8.—The redemption of trade dollars as authorized by the recent act of congress, began at the sub-treasury today. According to the act these coins, of which there is 350, was thirty-five million coined, must be offered for redemption within six months from March 4, 1887. It is said that there are, however, only about nine million of them in the country, and it is expected that nearly that number will be offered within the specified period.

Blew Themselves Up With Gunpowder.

PITTSBURG, March 8.—A number of boys who attend the Sunday school attached to St. Mark's Episcopal church were amusing themselves in the churchyard, Sunday, by pouring a quantity of gunpowder from a flask into a pocketbook and then exploding it. By some mistake a lighted match was applied to the whole quantity and a terrible explosion followed. Ten of the boys were more or less frightfully burned, one seriously.

General Newton Seriously Ill.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 8.—Gen. Robert C. Newton is very ill at his residence on Louisiana street, in this city. His death is momentarily expected. Gen. Newton has been a prominent figure in state politics for years past. In the Brooks-Baxter war he commanded all the state troops performing signal service. He was born in 1840. Lt. 1885 he was a candidate for the United States senate.

Fatal Farmers' Quarrel.

CORNING, Iowa, March 8.—J. H. Riggs, a farmer near this city, and his neighbor, J. H. McKenzie, quarreled about the right to use a certain pasture the other day, and the latter shot Riggs through the head which resulted in his death Saturday. McKenzie surrendered and is now lodged in jail. He claims he shot in self-defense.

After Chicago Boodlers.

CHICAGO, March 8.—Before Judge Anthony this morning States Attorney Grinnell made a motion that a special grand jury be summoned to investigate the charges against the boodler members of the Cook county board. Judge Anthony granted the motion and issued the order which is made returnable on Wednesday.

Father and Child Drowned.

HARRISON, O., March 8.—Yesterday afternoon Robert Blacker, a wealthy farmer, living near Scipio, Ind., together with his wife and child, attempted to cross Dry Forks. The carriage was overturned, throwing the occupants into the water. Mrs. Blacker was rescued, but Mr. Blacker and the child were drowned. Blacker was found lodged in a drift about one-half mile below the fork. The child has not yet been found.

Adelina Patti to Adopt Her Niece.

NEW ORLEANS, March 8.—Mme. Adelina Patti has written to her niece, Miss Carlini Patti, to meet her at St. Louis on the 13th inst., prepare to return with her to Europe, where she will formally adopt her and make her the heiress of her estate, including her jewelry and castle in Wales. Miss Carlini is just sixteen, has been carefully raised and educated, and is a beautiful promise of charming womanhood.

The Crew Still Missing.

OWENSBORO, Ky., March 8.—The tug boat Louisa, of Evansville, Ind., while moving sawlogs in Green river, broke her machinery, became unmanageable, drifted into the bank and burned up. W. T. Vittinger, of Louisville, R. S. Lock and Carl Laich, of Evansville drummers, had to take the river on sawlogs, and were rescued after a long, cold ride. Nothing has been heard of the crew.

A Sensational Suicide.

PARIS, Ky., March 8.—Mrs. D. T. Wilson, wife of the merchant who failed at North Middleton and absconded to Kansas City, accompanied by Mrs. David Cline, last fall, shot herself with suicidal intent this morning, the ball penetrating the left breast.

Congressional Electricity.

"I think I'll take my electricity," said a member of congress to-day, as he came out of the house into the lobby. "I feel all worn out; that last speech has almost exhausted me. Won't you come along?" he asked of a fellow member.

"I don't mind," the second congressman replied. "I think a little will do me good, too."

The two members got on the elevator and went down to the basement to take their electricity. It is quite "the fad" nowadays for the members to take electricity. An electric apparatus has been fixed up in the engine room in the basement, and daily the members avail themselves of the opportunity to get freshened up. A board, with a tooth piece of copper, is placed beneath the great belt of the large engine wheel, and the electricity thus generated is carried off by a wire attached to the board, which is long enough to be grasped by one who sits in a chair near by. The circuit is completed by the person holding the wire grasping a small brass chain attached to the railing around the engine's wheel. The system is thus filled quietly with electricity. The members say it is splendid after they have been out to receptions and suppers all night, or after they have exhausted their brain power by speech making or listening. A great many members take electricity, and some go to the basement of the Capitol for it every day during the session.—Baltimore American.

Inquiries for China.

You would be astonished to learn how often we are asked the question, "When does the next steamer leave San Francisco for China?" or "New Zealand?" or "Australia?" People, of course, desire to postpone writing their letters or sending any correspondence until the last day so as to get the latest possible news to send. They are anxious, also, that whatever they are sending should be as short a time as possible in transit, considering it safer in their own hands than traveling over land or water. The inquiries for China come chiefly from those interested in or associated with missionary work. In New Zealand there are many Americans, while in that island, also, as well as Australia, there are many who went from the British Isles and whose friends since removed to this country. Communications between friends so distant must be very sweet, the more so as they are by reason of the distance limited to comparatively few. Each year witnesses an increase in these mails, due, I suppose, in a large degree to the increasing Chinese population we are acquiring.—Superintendent of Mails in Globe-Democrat.

Hereditary Insanity.

The physical defects of fathers are more frequently reproduced in the offspring than those of the mother. In cases of mental disease the tendency is in the opposite direction. Insanity is much more frequently transmitted from the mother than from the father. According to French authorities, 279 out of 467 cases of mental affections were traceable to mothers.—Herald of Health.

Two Thousand Years Old.

A small case in the numismatic collection at the mint attracts no little attention because it contains but a single coin, and the interest doesn't decrease when the inscription is read: "Struck in the Philadelphia mint at least 2,000 years ago." Of course our Philadelphia isn't meant, but Philadelphia in Asia Minor.—Philadelphia Call.

"No Phisic, Sir, Mine!"

A good story comes from a boys' boarding-school in "Jersey." The diet was monotonous and constipating, and the learned Principal decided to introduce some old style physic in the apple-sauce, and await the results. One bright lad, the smartest in school, discovered the secret mine in his sauce, and pushing back his plate, shouted to the pedagogue, "No phisic, sir, in mine." My dad told me to use nuthin' but Dr. Pierce's 'Pleasant Purgative Pellets,' and they are doing their duty like a charm! They are anti-bilious, and purely vegetable.

R., and a committee from the Father Mathew's Total Abstinence Society were at the depot, and bore the remains of their late comrade to the residence of W. W. Watkins on the Fleming pike. As previously announced, the funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

A Runaway.

Madison Ball, father of County Clerk W. W. Ball, met with a serious accident between 9 and 10 o'clock this morning. At the time named he was driving along Forest avenue, Fifth ward, when the horse suddenly became frightened at some object, and started to run. The vehicle was dashed against the fence surrounding the public school near by, and Mr. Ball was thrown out, sustaining severe injuries and bruises to his head and other parts of his body. Dr. Pickett was summoned and dressed the wounds, which are very painful, and quite serious to one of Mr. Ball's age. The buggy was badly wrecked in the smash-up.

Stock and Crops.

W. L. Moran, of Moransburg, has bought of Charles Henry, of Adams county, Ohio, a three-year-old heavy draught Clydesdale stallion. The animal is a handsome bay, sired by Provost, a Clydesdale, imported by George Montgomery of Brown County. The stallion will make the season at Mr. Moran's farm near Moransburg.

Wm. E. Wells has bought the splendid draught stallion, Norman Duke, from parties in Brown County, O. The animal is a large and fine looking gray and will make the season at Mr. Wells' farm in the vicinity of the "Stone Church," on Lawrence Creek. Iron Duke was sired by Duke of Normandy, imported in 1869.

Rhea, as "The Widow."

A large and discriminating audience enjoyed Mlle Rhea's presentation of "The Widow," at the Academy of Music last evening, and the charming actress was never more radiantly captivating than in the work of interpreting the woes and wiles of the woman who clung so tenaciously to her husband's memory in the earlier scenes and suddenly sought consolation elsewhere as the play developed. The comedy entitled, "Widow's Weeds," belongs to what is essentially the French school in which, some very innocent persons say some very innocently-suggestive things, but the character taken by Rhea is above even the atmosphere of suspicion, and is a delightfully pleasing personation throughout. She was grace itself as the charming widow, and her acting was superb. Her personal loveliness, her musical voice, strongly accentuated with a French flavor, and her contagious laugh captivated her audience, and her last appearance in Soranton will long be remembered with pleasure for the enjoyment she afforded, and regret that it should be her final appearance here. Her support is excellent. Mr. Arthur Forrest as the fretful husband was immense. Mr. Robert Gibbs was admirable as the Parisian exquisite, and the other members of the company acquitted themselves with great credit. —Soranton (Pa.) Republican.

At Washington Opera House to-morrow night. Her first, and it may be her only appearance in this city. Reserved seats can be had at Taylor's.

Religious Reading.

The protracted meeting in the M. E. Church, South, at Winchester, conducted by Rev. H. C. Morrison for the past three weeks, has closed with about one hundred and fifty additions to the membership. A few were added to the other churches. The revival excited a wonderful interest, and was, perhaps, the most successful ever held in that region. A building could not be found large enough to accommodate the crowds. Nearly all the young men of the place were converted, and a fund of over $600 was raised to rent and furnish a library and reading room. A letter from there says that "on Thursday night, Dr. Young, pastor of the church in which the meetings were held, was presented with a gold watch by the ladies, and Mr. Morrison was the recipient of a beautiful gold watch from the young men. The Rev. A. Redd has secured the promise of the assistance of Mr. Morrison in a series of meetings to commence on the 14th instant, at Paris. Mr. Morrison is a single man, between twenty-five and thirty years of age; popular because approachable and agreeable in the social circle, and in the pulpit brilliant and captivating."

Natural Gas.

The scheme to pipe natural gas from the wells near Warfield, Ky., to Cincinnati, supplying the cities along the route, has not yet been abandoned, to judge from the following which is taken from the Ashland Independent: "Mr. Rigdon, of Warfield, Ky., passed through Ashland the other day. He was on his way home, and on his return from Pittsburg, where he has been in the interests of the gas well company, and making arrangements for the necessary piping, etc., in connection with the proper conveyance of the gas to the various points which are to be supplied. Mr. Rigdon stated that all the arrangements had been completed, and that nothing more remained to be done, but to begin the work, and push it to the earliest completion. He further stated that the laying of pipes from the gas well would be commenced some time during the month of March, depending to a certain extent upon the state of the weather and the condition of the ground, and that Ashland will be supplied with gas before the expiration of the next sixty days. To all of which we say let the good work go on; we will welcome natural gas or anything else, that will help to build up our already rapidly improving city."

JACK DUNCAN has been jailed at Carlisle for house-breaking and cutting with intent to kill. He is a notorious character, and is related to the Underwoods. When arrested he was hid in a creek, standing in water up to his neck.

MRS. HARRY WENSEL, wife of the tenor artist at the Exchange Hotel, left the other day to visit her parents at Maysville. While on the cars, and just after passing through Carlisle, on the Maysville branch of the K. C., some miscreant threw a stone through the window and struck her on the breast. She was not much hurt, for the glass in the window had broken the force of the stone. She had only a few minutes before entrusted her baby to a lady traveling with her; but for that act, her child might have sustained painful, and possibly injurious wounds.—Owen County Democrat.

Mrs. Charles Sibbald, formerly Miss Hood is visiting her mother, Mrs. Wm. Hood.

N. J. Sutton, who has been South for some time on the steamer Novelty, has returned home.

Sir Peter Huff, prominently identified with the "white-collar line," is laid up on account of being under the weather.

Col. Robert Nelson, Jr., and Major Elijah Garrison, two prominent tobacco men of this place, are on the Cincinnati break this week.

We understand some of the recent converts are getting much interested in the game called pitch, and it is no Sunday-school game either.

Capt. Louis Reidle had the misfortune to lose his Maltese cat a few nights since. Too much familiarity with the tan-yard dogs. This cat was highly prized.

Mrs. Bettie Payne, a most estimable and well liked lady of this place, departed this life Saturday night, March 5th, about eleven o'clock, after a lingering illness from consumption.

Geo. W. Schlitz has gone to Wichita, Kansas. We learn there will be more departures for the magical city of the West. It's dollars to cents some of them will think it is the mythical city, before they get a chance to walk back.

One of Mason County's prominent young bellies, Miss Sadie Sullivan, was united in wedlock to Mr. Jerome Payne, also of Mason County, last Friday night, by his Honor, Squire Beasley, who on being aroused from his slumbers and rubbing his eyes opened in his usual modus operandi pronouncing them man and wife. May success attend their married life is the wish of the BULLETIN.

Now on exhibition—the great "what-is-it," or the petrified alligator, some call it a wild sweet potato. Anyhow it is on dress parade at the drug store, and "Sheb" stands ready and willing to give its history and where captured, and the care taken to remove it from its natural wiles, and at the same time make you a present of a bottle of "T and T." Best in the world for coughs and colds. Only 25 cents per bottle. The young cry for it, and the old sign for it, and you try it.

Miss Lizzie Leggett desires to inform her friends and the public at large that on the 1st Monday in April, she will open a subscription school, where she will teach all the branches pertaining to a first class school and give special attention to the instruction of classes in vocal music, elocution and penmanship. The term of school will be two months. Miss Lizzie is a teacher of experience and ability as her previous success demonstrates, having been teaching in our public schools six or seven years and giving the best satisfaction. For terms of tuition consult her. NONPAREIL.

The Maysville Hedge Company.

This company, which was organized about the beginning of the present year, with the rights and privileges of the Vise patent, has begun active operations under encouraging circumstances. The company is composed of several young business men of Maysville, with two or three of the older and wiser heads associated with them for counsel, and, considering the laudable purposes in view, is deserving of the sympathy and assistance of the whole community. It is to be desired that Maysville take on new life and advance in commercial importance with rapid strides similar to those made by other places, all such enterprises ought to be heartily commended and encouraged by our people.

The question of fences is rapidly becoming one of vital interest. Some of the best authorities on lumber supply assert that, at the present enormous rate of consumption, within a period of twelve years, our great primeval forests shall have been mainly exhausted, and we shall be per force of circumstances, driven back upon other resources. The hedge for ages in all older countries has been the common resort under similar circumstances. It is the best fence that can be made. It is useful, enduring and beautiful, and in addition to all that, it is cheaper than any other fence. The Vise patent is the newest, best and cheapest ever invented, and it would be wise in our farmers to give it their attention. It is an ornament to the farm, beautifies the face of the country, takes the place to a large extent of the forests, which are now being so sadly missed, becomes the home of a great variety of birds which close observers have remarked are leaving the country along with the trees, serves to prevent in no small measure the annual return of drought, and altogether is an inheritance which any man would do well to leave coming generations.

We take pleasure in commending the services of this company to those who are in charge of our cemetery. Nothing would make a more useful and beautiful enclosure for the "silent city of the dead" than a well-kept hedge, and we are quite sure that those who have more friends dwelling there than in the city of the living, would take pleasure in seeing the cemetery thus enclosed.

The object of this young company will be profitable to the community. Let it have all the encouragement and assistance that it deserves. The stock of the company is about all taken, and it has four or five agents now in the field taking orders. Give it a boom.

ONLY a little over one hundred miles of railroad were built in this State last year. This year the record will be much more gratifying. There are already in course of construction two hundred and sixty-eight miles. The outlook is certainly promising. The good time is coming, and it will not be many years now when Kentucky will be as well provided with railways as any of her sister States.

Brace Up.

You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor, you are bothered with headache, you are fidgety, nervous and generally out of sorts, and want to brace up. Brace up, but not with stimulants, spring medicines, or bitters, which have for their basis very cheap, bad whisky, and which stimulate you for an hour, and then leave you in worse condition than before. What you want is an alterative that will purify your blood, restore healthy action of liver and kidneys, restart your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Electric Bitters, and only 50 cents a bottle at the drug stores of J. C. Pecor & Co., and S. P. Campbell & Co., of Aberdeen Ohio.
